

CONTENT OUTLINE

Libby Thompson

11/7/2018

Project Title: Beekeeping

I would like to build this site with multiple site pages to it for each of the different categories, with a navigation bar either on the side or the top. I think there is a sufficient amount of content for each section to make having multiple site pages feasible.

-Home Page/Introduction: definition of beekeeping and a brief description of what it is as a process (essentially the first paragraph on the Wikipedia page).

-Origins: a condensed description of the origins of beekeeping from section 1.1 (how was this was discovered and cultivated into a practice monitored by humans-look at origins, wild honey harvesting, and study of honey bees sections within 1.1)

-Pioneers of beekeeping: a list of people who changed the beekeeping game with names and dates (giving a general timeline of how we got from origins to modern beekeeping-listed in section 1.1.5)

-Modern beekeeping: talk about natural beekeeping vs. urban/backyard beekeeping vs. indoor beekeeping (sections 3.7, 3.8, and 3.9 on Wikipedia)

-Save the Bees!: talk about ways in which honey bees are effected by disease and parasites and then show how beehives worldwide are increasing to combat things like Colony Collapse Disorder (look at Losses section and then the graph in the World Apiculture section below it)

-Sources